

Action Plan Month April 2023 to March 2024

Under the Indian Constitution, social, economic and political justice has been ensured to all the citizens of India. In the absence of proper knowledge of rights and economic means, a large section of the society and especially the deprived and needy people are not able to get justice. The denial of justice to the people of the society on the basis of the above shortcomings shows that in order to achieve the objective of the constitution, every organ of the government needs to work in a coordinated manner, so that not only the deprived and needy people of the society get the right to live with human dignity, but they will also get ample amount of opportunity to contribute to the development of the country. The purpose of the presented action plan is to provide benefits to the backward and deprived people of the society according to the schemes and instructions of NALSA, SLISA and government and at the same time not only to make people aware of their rights in the society, but also to make sure that every person of the society is aware about their fundamental duties.

There has been a steady increase in the population of senior citizens in India. The number of senior citizens has increased from 1.98 crore in 1951 to 7.6 crore in 2001 and 10.38 crore in 2011. According to the 2011 census, the number of women in the age group above 60 years is relatively high. It is estimated that the number of senior citizens in India will increase to 143 million in 2021 and 173 million in 2026. The main reason for the increasing population is the general improvement in health care facilities over the years and because of this life expectancy is increasing.

Senior citizens face social, physical and economic challenges. Health and mental problems are often seen in physical problems. The problem is further compounded by the breakdown of the joint family system, abandonment of senior citizens by their family members, and in the situation of migration of the earning member of the family from rural to urban areas senior citizens have to face relatively more problems. Senior citizens are given a special place in every civilized society and in the present environment it is expected to achieve the concept of welfare state by making efforts to solve the problems of senior citizens.

Keeping in view the problems of the elderly, the action plan for the year 2023-24 is specially focused on senior citizens. Thereby, for the purpose of providing positive environment and facilities to the elderly, the implementation of NALSA (Legal Services for Senior Citizens) Scheme, 2016 will be done by each district along with other activities, by preparing a suitable special action plan according to the local conditions. In the said special action plan following are required to be included:-

1. A database of senior citizens (male, female and others) will be maintained by conducting a survey of the entire district in coordination with the concerned departments like Social Justice and Empowerment of Persons with Disabilities Department, Health Department, etc.]
2. Identifying the problems of senior citizens and the issues affecting them and providing cooperation and facilities for their redressal through the concerned department.
3. After identification of the cases pending in the court related to senior citizens, necessary efforts should be made for their speedy disposal.
4. According to the NALSA scheme, setting up of Legal Aid Clinic is to be done and visits to old age homes by school and university students is also to be ensured. During these activities necessary efforts should be made to provide legal services to senior citizens through students.

5. Organize Training, Orientation & Sensitization programmes for panel advocates engaged in providing assistance and facilities to senior citizens, paralegal volunteers, volunteers of legal services clinics, officers and employees of the concerned department by whom government schemes are implemented, policemen and NGOs .
6. Organize camps and awareness programs related with providing benefits of welfare schemes to senior citizens and giving information about the rights provided to them under the law including the topics suited to the local situation and need in the prescribed period in coordination with the concerned departments.
7. In order to consider the effective implementation of the action plan organize a meeting in every three month. This meeting will include NGOs working in the field of welfare of the elderly, representatives of senior citizens, officers of the departments providing cooperation in the implementation of government schemes related with welfare of the senior citizens etc.
8. Necessary efforts are to be made through Corporate Social Responsibility, N.G.O etc. for the smooth operation of old age homes in each district and also for the establishment of old age homes in those places where such homes are not established.

The main objective of the Legal Services Authority is to provide free legal aid, spread legal literacy, organize Lok Adalat to encourage settlement of disputes and promote use of alternative dispute resolution techniques to resolve disputes and to provide compensation to the victims of crime etc.

Keeping in view the above objectives, under the action plan year 2023-24, the following activities are proposed to be organized along with other ongoing schemes & instructions issued from time to time by the National Legal Services Authority and State Legal Services Authority etc.
